Category Analysis

This is perhaps the most versatile and insightful of the reports. This report helps determine how your students perform relative to specific learning objectives and goals and is also a highly effective tool for ensuring that homework and quiz objectives (formative assessment) are aligned with test objectives (or summative assessment.) This report is highly customizable to determine performance across aspects like learning objectives, difficulty level, and Bloom's taxonomy. This data identifies where students are struggling, allowing you to then remediate through the class.

Course Content Review

A secondary use might be for course content review. Before duplicating a course for the next semester, you can assess the effectiveness of your content. Identifying learning objectives that many students missed might indicate inadequate course coverage of the objective.

Category Analysis Customization

You can customize the Category Analysis report by selecting the Learning Objectives and Bloom's taxonomy categories. Furthermore, you may check the "display student names and scores" box to better pinpoint students who might be struggling.
