My favorite thing about Connect is...

“LearnSmart is a great tool. My students love this part of the platform and they don't just complete what is assigned to them. Many students use this tool as a study tool for exams and most of them have downloaded the app on their phone so they can use it on the go.”

Connect helped me improve my course by...

“The assignments and tutorials within Connect are great and allow faculty to utilize our face-to-face time with the students on more communicative activities. We don't have to spend the entire class teaching grammar!”

My top 3 tips for using Connect:

- “Pay attention to the student performance reports. Knowing which specific topics are more challenging to your students can help shape the content of your face-to-face time with them.”
- “Assign the orientation videos to make sure the students receive some basic training on the platform during the first week of class. ”
- “Don't hesitate to contact the McGraw Hill representatives for help if needed. I've always received great support from them!”

What Connect could mean for you:

“This program is beneficial for students - there is so much material there for them to explore and learn from. It is also beneficial for instructors - once a course is designed you can recycle it for future semesters. You can easily set the assignments to include all, or mostly auto-graded assignments, therefore cutting back on grading time and allowing you to focus on teaching in the classroom. There are LOTS of instructor resources as well.”

My best advice for a new user:

“Learning how to use ANY new platform can be intimidating, but my advice would be to use all the resources available to you to take the time to learn this one! It is actually quite user friendly and once you learn the basics you will become comfortable with it in no time!”
