Slime!

Do you like slime? You would like a slug.

A slug is a bit like a clam. A clam will have a shell and hide in wet spots like a pond.

A slug will not have a shell. It will hide on land. You can see a slug on the side of a deck or in grass. A slug will not like sun.

Slime is in a slug and on its skin. A slug can slide on its slime. If a frog bites a slug, it will not like the slime! Yuck! The frog will not like the slug.

Late for the Game

Mom was late. Her plane was late. She would miss Kate's game. Kate's game was by the spot that the plane would land. But Mom would still miss the game. The plane would not land on time. That would make Kate sad.

Mom had a plan. What would she do? Mom sat on the left side of the plane. When it was time for the plane to land, Mom had a cam. The plane tips a bit to its left. Mom can see Kate's game! Snap! Snap! Snap!

Mom had shots of Kate's game! Kate would be glad.

Snakes

Do you spot snakes in your grass or at your gate?
Do you see them when you rake or cut grass?

Snakes hide well. They can hide in grass and rocks.
When it is hot, snakes rest in shade.

Do not hate snakes! Do not kill them. Snakes get rid of pests. The same pests can make us sick. So snakes can make us safe.

But a snake you spot is not your pal. Snakes do bite. Be safe. Do not pick up snakes! Do not make a snake mad!

Code?

Dad and I rode bikes at Stone Hill. We did not plan to ride up it.

Then smoke came up in back of Stone Hill. Smoke came up in big puffs and not-so-big puffs. Was this code? Was it a note? We had to see!

We rode up Stone Hill. On top, we did see smoke but no code. But we did get to see Stone Lake. The sun lit it up. It was the best! Still I said, “Was that smoke code? Nope!”

“It was!” Dad said. “It said ‘Go see Stone Lake!’”

I am glad we did.
